As we celebrate our 30th anniversary, we reflect on our accomplishments and are excited about new opportunities for the Center. In the past year, we have become recognized for the talent and depth of knowledge we have on staff. We have been called on by many, locally and nationally, to provide our expertise. We hope to capitalize on this opportunity and add professional training as a substantial revenue stream for the Center.

As we look ahead to the next 30 years, the Center has made a conscientious decision to remain true to its mission. As such, our focus is on being the best providers of domestic violence services that we can. We believe strongly that the intimate nature of the Center allows us to always be in touch with the staff, the clients, and what is going on in the programs. Our focus on training and mentoring is important to quality work and will remain central to what we do.

“For me, forgiveness and compassion are always linked: how do we hold people accountable for wrongdoing and yet at the same time remain in touch with their humanity enough to believe in their capacity to be transformed?”

—Bell Hooks

"Every one of us can make a contribution. And quite often we are looking for the big things and forget that, wherever we are, we can make a contribution. Sometimes I tell myself, I may only be planting a tree here, but just imagine what's happening if there are billions of people out there doing something. Just imagine the power of what we can do."

—Wangari Maathai

“Every Thursday I wake up at 6 a.m. because I know that it is leadership group day.”

“When the school picked me for the leadership group; I decided that if they saw me as a leader that I needed to start seeing myself as a leader.”

“I’d just like to thank you for this opportunity, it’s been very positive on my life and I thank you for helping me become a better person overall.”

VISIBILITY

Abriendo Puertas (Opening Doors)

A bi-cultural event which highlighted the diversity of the Latin culture. A group of women from Mujeres Unidas, a bi-lingual support group of the Center, prepared homemade Latin food for the guests to enjoy. This family event also included games and activities for children to enjoy, a mariachi musician and dancers from Columbia and Mexico for all to enjoy, as well as time for gathering and relaxing with friends. The event was concluded by an inspiring concert performed by Lilo Gonzales, a Salvadoran musician, who highlighted his journey to becoming an American citizen.

Luncheon

The luncheon event “Honoring 30 years of Progress, Service, and Inspiration” was held in honor of the individuals within our community who work tirelessly toward the common goal of eliminating violence. Terra Brantley, our featured speaker, gave a powerful, emotional and compelling rendering of her experiences as a battered woman. Chief Deputy Dottie Davis, Hon. Jeffrey R. Heffelfinger, Saneta Maiko, Hon. Charles F. Pratt, Chief Tammy Schaffer, & Joan Uebelhoer were also honored for their work and dedication throughout the years.

Tea House

Hosted an English Tea House as part of the Woodland – Williams holiday home tour to educate the public about the Center and its programs. We thank "A Perfect Pear" and "Neuhaus Gifts" for their fabulous donations and for all staff and panel members who made this event happen.
